

TEAMWORK MAKES THE DREAM WORK

Choosing Your Team

- What: Are we all interested in the same aspect of the topic?
- Where: Do we agree on where we should take action (at the federal, state, or local level)?
- Why: Do we share a common perspective about the issue we're addressing?
- How: Do we agree on how the problem should be solved (by creating a new law or repealing an existing one)?
- How many members are commuters vs. on-campus residents? Groups with high proportions of commuters might prefer virtual meetings.
- How many members are student athletes and what are their schedules?
- How many members are in the Public Policy Incubator course? It is beneficial to have at least one member of the team participate in the course.

Being on the Team

- Respond to texts and emails from your group members.
- Create a regular meeting schedule.
- Proofread each other's work.
- Practice presenting together as well as individually.
- Download the public policy app.
- Check your school email and the public policy app for due dates and other important information.
- Regularly check in with team members who are enrolled in the Incubator course to see if they have any updates or relevant information to share.
