

LAKE FOREST
COLLEGE

Annual Kenneth L. Weik Symposium

Sponsored by Student Symposium and Beta Beta Beta

Featured Posters

Anhar Mohamed '14

“Stress, sex and brain”

Jillian Pastick '14

“Variation in hybrid Echinacea seedlings”

Jenifer Yost '14

“Soil aggregates in restored prairies”

Jeremy Boeing '15

“The urban ant: Does address matter?”

Wendy Deng '15

“Bioinformatics survey on methylmercury production”

Maiwase Tembo '15

“Endocytosis role in Parkinson’s disease”

Tyler Kaplan '16

“Applying novel PCR assay to a new organism”

Saul Bello Rojas '16 and Khadijah Hamid '16

“Understanding α -synuclein splice variants in yeast”

Yuri Parasiuk '16, Jennifer Salgado-Benz '16, Megan Crocco '16

“Part-set cuing effect in memory”

Charles Alvarado '16, Sarah Chiren '16, Jyothis
James '16, Alex Roman '16

“Creation of α -synuclein truncation variants”

Event Details

Where: Durand Art Institute,

Second Floor Balcony

When: Tuesday, April 8th

The Program

2:40pm-2:50pm

Welcoming speech by

Anastasiya Koshkina '15 President *Beta
Beta Beta* and Olga Kutkovska '15, Vice

President Beta Beta Beta

2:50pm-3:00pm

Certificates of Participation are distributed to all presenters

3:00pm-3:50pm

Poster Presentation Session

3:50pm-4:00pm

Thanks and Closing remarks

Snacks will be provided!

This symposium recognizes student research in life sciences conducted by LFC students on or off campus, in memory of Emeritus Professor of Biology Kenneth L. Weik.